

Supported Living

Lifeworks offers a Supported Living Program designed to serve people who live independently in their own homes or apartments, but who may require some individualized supports.

The mission of the program is to enhance the individual's feeling of independence within his or her own living environment.

Lifeworks Case Managers provide individualized supports from 4 to 24 hours of weekly support based on individual needs and schedules.

Case Management services include:

- Advocacy regarding medical, financial and entitlement decisions.
- Budget planning assistance and counseling.
- Life improvement goal planning.
- Assistance with shopping and errands such as banking, laundry, etc.
- Planning and attending social activities. Residents and staff members regularly visit local restaurants, stores, libraries, and participate in special town events.
- Travel training using local transportation.

Lifeworks provides these supports to people in their own home or apartment as well as to individuals living at home with their families.

Our experienced case managers are all college-educated and dedicated to serving the residents in the Lifeworks community with excellence.

Understanding that family needs are as unique as the individuals we serve, staff work hard to form lasting, meaningful partnerships with parents, guardians and loved ones.

With exceptionally high staff retention rates, you can count on Lifeworks to provide consistent service and attention; creating the feeling of stability and safety essential to a person's sense of well-being and trust.

"From work, to home, to fun, the team from Lifeworks has helped my brother Ed become an independent and fulfilled adult. When it comes to daily life- from chores to budgeting- his case manager Richard continually looks for new ways to challenge Ed to do more for himself and make good decisions. My family and I are immensely grateful for all the Lifeworks team does to help Ed reach his goals."

"We chose the residence in Foxboro because of its convenient location and the comfortable, one-floor design of the house. The staff people have been exceptional in their cheerfulness, dedication and skill. We have been very happy with our choice."
